wife of [redacted] a neighbor of [redacted] [redacted] who rents a trailer from him; [redacted]
[redacted] address unknown; [redacted] ROY TONEY, from Gastonia; [redacted]
[redacted] in Lincolnton; [redacted] (LNU), who is employed at Hardee's [redacted] and works for him in the [redacted] business. [redacted] is suppose to be from Gastonia and has no family.

[redacted] advised that she does not know HAROLD FLOWERS or [redacted] as being members, and they could be relatively new members. [redacted] are members of the Klan but believed not to be members of the Lincolnton Klavern.

Following the rally at the fairgrounds two weeks ago and the request for some of the men to go to Greensboro to show support for the Klan, VIRGIL GRIFFIN specifically asked the members to go. He asked for only men to go because he was afraid of a possible problem with the Communist group because of past dealings with the Communist group and the information they had been putting out about death to the Klan. As a result, GRIFFIN said he did not want the women or children to go. There were about 10 to 12 of the men who said that they would go.

On Friday, November 2, 1979. [redacted]

[redacted] who was also a member of the Lincolnton Klavern, to meet at [redacted]s home that night. [redacted] go to the meeting.
They wanted [redacted] to go to Greensboro with them. however, he told them that he would [redacted] and for the past [redacted] He will be [redacted] and will be available for interview [redacted]

[redacted] has talked the problem with the Klan over with [redacted] and they both have decided that they are going to quit. She is of the understanding that other individuals who were members are also going to quit in view of what has happened. None of them believe in getting involved in the type of situation which occurred in Greensboro.
Also, quite a few of the members are angry with VIRGIL GRIFFIN because he requested the members to go, led them there and then left when there was trouble leaving the others in jail.

[redacted] identified individual depicted in the photograph of ROLAND W. WOOD as a member of the Nazi Party.

The Klan was first introduced to the Nazi Party when they were invited by the Nazis to a barbecue at either Laurinburg or Lewisburg, N. C., back in September, 1979. This was strictly a social for members and their families. There was a Klan group there, a Nazi group and another group whose name she did not know. This third group wore white shirts with red on the shoulders. There were 200 to 300 people there. The Press was also there. Articles were written up in local newspapers as well as coverage given by Channel 12 at Winston-Salem. She believes it was approximately 200 miles to get to the location. About half of the local members of the Lincolnton Klavern went. They traveled in two cars, two trucks and a van from Lincolnton. [redacted] and herself drove one vehicle. [redacted] drove a vehicle as well as [redacted]. Some of the group from Gastonia also went. They went in a truck owned by someone from the Smyrna, N. C., area.

There was talk of the three groups joining together. VIRGIL GRIFFIN was in favor of the Nazis joining the Klan, however, he wanted it to be known that he would be the leader and that the Nazis would have to give up their uniforms and swastika bands. There was quite a bit of dissension among members of the local group about Nazis joining the Klan. Many of them did not want to have anything to do with them.

b6

She advised that there was not much of any Klan activity in the Lincolnton area prior to this past summer. The recruiting began in the summer and went on through the Fall. Funds are raised through donations taken up at the rallies.

ADMINISTRATIVE:

[redacted] is not being open as ^a ~~the~~ confidential source or informant, in view of the fact that she has advised that she is going to quit the Klan. Furthermore, in accordance with current instructions pertaining to opening of sources, there is not a current case involving investigation of the Klan. The above information ~~will be of~~ lead value at such a time as deemed necessary. is being furnished for
